CITY COUNCIL STAFF REPORT

AGENDA TITLE: A review of Zoning Code regulations relating to Recreational Vehicles

MEETING DATE: November 9, 2011

PREPARED BY: Shane Diller, Code Enforcement Manager

DEPARTMENT HEAD: Rebecca Craig, Assistant City Manager

RECOMMENDED ACTION:

Receive staff report and provide direction as desired.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION:

A recent amendment to Title 23 of the Elk Grove Municipal Code added a definition to the Zoning Code regarding 'Recreational Vehicles'. This amendment defined recreational vehicles as “...any motor home, travel trailer, truck camper, camper trailer, boat, all terrain vehicle (ATV), personal watercraft, or similar vehicle”.

Section 23.58.040 (C)(3) of the Elk Grove Municipal Code establishes allowances and prohibitions for where recreational vehicles can be parked. Prior to the 2011 amendment adding the above definition, Code Enforcement enforced the parking section with a common definition of recreational vehicles being motor homes or travel trailers. Code Enforcement enforces the new definition, which includes a broader range of vehicles.

In response to communications Council has received from citizens, Code Enforcement is providing background on the subject, as well as information about our enforcement statistics and a survey of what regulations nearby jurisdictions have in place.

PARKING REGULATION HISTORY:

Upon incorporation, Elk Grove adopted Sacramento County zoning regulations. Those regulations did not include boats in the definition of recreational vehicle. Sacramento County's ordinance does not prohibit boat and recreational vehicle parking in setbacks provided that the boat or recreational vehicle is in good working order.

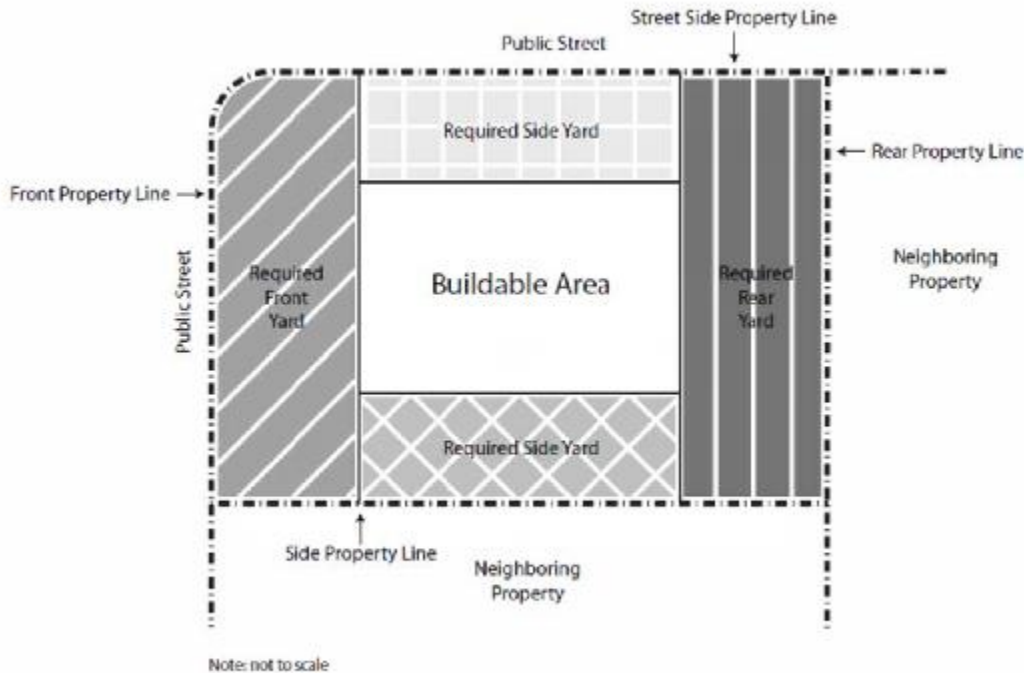

In 2006, Elk Grove adopted Title 23 of the Elk Grove Municipal Code, establishing zoning regulations specific to the needs of the City of Elk Grove. Under Title 23, recreational vehicles may be parked on the street for up to 72 hours, and the code prohibits such vehicles from being parked in front yard setbacks (driveways and lawns) and in street side yard setbacks (area at the side of a home that runs along a street).

The 2006 code did not include a specific definition of recreational vehicle. Code Enforcement staff, therefore, interpreted the code to apply to the traditional and ordinary meaning of the term recreational vehicles (e.g. motor homes and travel trailers).

Code Enforcement received a handful of complaints each year regarding boats being parked in driveways. When those complaints were received, we would inform the reporting party that, unless the trailer the boat rested on was inoperable (triggering enforcement of our inoperable vehicle ordinance) or presented some form of visual blight, the boat was legal to be parked and stored in the driveway.

In June 2011, an amendment to Title 23 added other vehicles used for recreation to a specific definition of recreational vehicle. Since the added definition has taken effect, Code Enforcement has begun to enforce the prohibition against boats, watercraft and all terrain vehicles being parked in street side yard setbacks and front yard setbacks. This enforcement has frustrated some citizens who have stored their boats and other recreational vehicles in driveways and alongside homes.

For illustration, below is a diagram from Title 23 showing the different yard areas mentioned in the set back requirements:

ENFORCEMENT STATISTICS:

Since October 2009, Code Enforcement has enforced 110 violations of the recreational vehicle parking regulations. About 1/3 of those violations (35) have been reported and enforced since the definition expanded to include vehicles besides motor homes and travel trailers in June of this year.

Code Enforcement currently has 13 open cases pending for violations of recreational vehicle parking.

REGIONAL SURVEY:

Staff has reviewed surrounding jurisdictions in an effort to compare Elk Grove's definitions and standards. This survey finds that two jurisdictions (Cities of Sacramento and West Sacramento) have similar restrictions to recreational vehicle parking in setbacks. Most jurisdictions do have operability standards and standards for keeping the vehicles in a clean and presentable condition.

Of the eight jurisdictions surveyed, six jurisdictions included boats in their definition of recreational vehicle or applied the recreational vehicle parking requirements to boats. The chart below illustrates our findings:
