Public involvement is critical for a community's health and vitality – it's why the City of Elk Grove takes communicating with residents so seriously. And it's always more effective if information is delivered how residents want to get it.

Responding to that need, City Council meetings will now be broadcast live on the Elk Grove website through the technology of streaming webcasts. And for residents who can't watch it live, meetings will be archived on the website for watching at your convenience.

Check it out on the City website at www.elkgrovecity.org

Light the Night

Envision

Many Elk Grove residents have helped shape the City's future through "Envision Elk Grove" – sharing their thoughts on everything from transportation and job growth, to preserving our small town identity and public safety. The final report will be presented at the City Council meeting on May 24th.

Furry Friends and Books

Help celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Sacramento SPCA and get bargains on books at the SPCA's Spring Book Sale. The annual fundraiser benefitting shelter animals features new and used – even antique and rare books – and guarantees "dog-gone good prices" on the more than 10,000 books. Adoptable animals will also be showcased during the show.
