

New Library is Something Worth Reading About

Thanks to a partnership between the City of Elk Grove and the Sacramento Public Library, a new Library building will coming next year to serve the community's quest for knowledge. Conveniently located at the corner of Elk Grove Boulevard and Elk Grove Florin Road, the new 13,785 square foot building will feature cutting edge new technology with programs designed to meet the needs of residents young and old. New additions to the library collection will ensure residents have the greatest access to materials.

Its proximity to local schools, easy parking and e-tran bus stops will make the building easily accessible to students, while adding a pleasing gateway to Old Town Elk Grove.

The Friends of the Library Fall Book Sale helps support library programs and materials. All sales are located at the Elk Grove Library, 8962 Elk Grove Boulevard.

QUICK NOTES

More Honors for e-tran

e-tran, the City's popular public transit system, posted a 78% increase in ridership in its first year in operation – helping the City earn a prestigious Helen Putnam Award for excellence in transportation. By using public transportation, you free yourself from the hassles of traffic, while helping clean the air we all breathe. For an up-to-date schedule, check out the website at www.e-tran.org, or call (916) 68E-TRAN.

Elk Grove Adopts Alarm Ordinance

Local alarm ordinances help reduce the number of false alarms requiring police response – and help police better respond to real emergencies. The City of Elk Grove is now operating its own Alarm Bureau, and all residences or businesses with alarm systems must
