

A Picture's Worth a Thousand Words (and 500 bucks)

Elk Grove is our town – a reflection of who we are, what we've become and what we hope to be – it's a story that's always in the making. Capturing that unique story through the photographer's lens is the goal of the second annual "Through Your Eyes" photo contest sponsored by the Old Town Elk Grove Foundation.

All Elk Grove residents are encouraged to submit an original photograph taken since 2000 and featuring the people, places or events of Elk Grove. The winning photographer will see their work in the 2008 City of Elk Grove calendar, and will take home a $500 cash prize.

For more information, official rules and entry forms, shutterbugs should visit the Foundation's website at www.oldtownelkgrove.org before the July 31st deadline.

Take a Night Out for Neighborhood Fun and Safety

Turn on the lights, step outside and join your neighbors on Tuesday, August 7th in celebration of the 24th Annual "National Night Out." This nationwide event helps encourage stronger neighborhoods, by getting neighbors better acquainted. It's one of the easiest things you can do to help keep your neighborhood safe.

For information about the program, or about a block party in your neighborhood, call Crime Prevention Specialist Denise Costello at 478-8117.

Residents Can't Get Enough of E-Waste Events!

Two more no-cost e-waste events this summer will help residents properly dispose of old computers*, TVs, VCRs, stereos, copiers, mobile phones, fax machines... well, you get the picture. You can even get rid of microwaves (but no other appliances) and up to four tires with or without the rims. While you're at it, give yourself a pat on the back for living in such a responsible community, where residents care about keeping hazardous waste out of landfills. For more information, look online at www.egtrashrecycles.org, or give us a call at 478-2289.
