City of Elk Grove and Community Group to Hold Joint Meeting on Future Civic Center

Elk Grove, CA – The City of Elk Grove and Elk Grove Community Connection (EGCC) are teaming up for a workshop to explore the community’s vision for the future Elk Grove Civic Center. Facilitated by Mayor Patrick Hume, the meeting will be take place on Wednesday, January 7 at Elk Grove City Hall (Council Chambers, 8400 Laguna Palms Way) beginning at 6:30 p.m.

"The Civic Center project is perhaps a once in a lifetime opportunity for residents and stakeholders to weigh in on what amenities are needed to help move Elk Grove forward into the next chapter toward our highest potential," said Mayor Patrick Hume. "Please take a moment to join us and share your thoughts on what public cultural, civic and recreational components you'd like to see."

The workshop will begin with a reception hosted by the Elk Grove City Council. The agenda will include presentations by resident Sarah Johnson and Pam Johns from the Elk Grove Planning Department.

"The Elk Grove City Council is planning for our future now! Public input is paramount in the planning of our city’s Civic Center," said EGCC member Connie Conley. "Planned right, the civic center will be the hub of our city and the center of our city’s cultural life and more."

The program will also include a few surprises, including a raffle for a Strikes Bowling family night. In the spirit of community, donations will be accepted for the Elk Grove Community Assistance Network (EGCAN).

For more information, or to submit topics to be specifically discussed, please contact EGCC Media Representative Linda Ford at 916.835.5988 or atthefords@fontiernet.net or City of Elk Grove PIO Christine Brainerd at cbrainerd@elkgrovecity.org or 916.478.3632.
